THE CHEN FAMILY

Main Character: Lily Chen (8 years old, female)

Ethnicity: Asian-American (Chinese) + White (Irish)

Deployed Parent: Gunnery Sergeant Jessica Chen (Mom)

Supporting Parent: Michael Chen (Dad, software developer working from home)

Sibling: Noah Chen (6, younger brother)

Pet: Semper (orange tabby cat)

Setting: Camp Pendleton area, California

Deployment: 8 months with 1st Marine Division

Visual Theme: Marine red/gold, California sunshine, Eagle-Globe-Anchor motifs

KEY ADAPTATIONS FROM NAVY VERSION:

- All Navy-specific terminology changed to Marines (Marine, unit, duty, Semper Fi)
- Activities emphasize honor, commitment, courage (Marine Corps values)
- Setting changed to Southern California with beach elements
- Family structure: work-from-home dad, mom deployed
- Lily's coping style: quiet/introspective, processes through art and writing

COMPLETE 32-PAGE STRUCTURE:

Follows identical emotional arc as Navy/Army books with Marines-specific details:

- Pages 1-4: Front matter (Chen family introduction)
- Pages 5-26: 11 emotion spreads (adapted for Marine culture)
- Pages 27-32: Back matter (resources, certificate, back cover)

All activities follow same therapeutic framework with Marine variations detailed in complete manuscript.

MARINES-SPECIFIC ACTIVITY ADAPTATIONS

Activity 1: Question Formation (vs Navy's Whirlpool/Army's Barracks)
Questions arranged in military formation on wall, addressed systematically

Activity 2: Worry Obstacle Course (vs Navy's Boat/Army's Parachute)
Physical obstacle course to conquer worries

Activity 3: Honor the Sad (vs Navy's Flip/Army's Strength)
Create honor card acknowledging sadness as tribute to sacrifice

Activity 4: Brave Mission Log (vs Navy's Chain/Army's Steps)
Notebook logging brave moments with rank promotions

Activity 5: Letter Liberty (vs Navy's Messages/Army's Care Package)
Structured weekly letter-writing ritual

Activity 6: Mad Strength Circuit (vs Navy's Stomp/Army's March)
Marine-style PT circuit to channel anger into strength

Activity 7: Honor Emblem Pin (vs Navy's Badge/Army's Stripes)
Eagle-Globe-Anchor emblem pin showing Marine family status

Activity 8: Halfway Honor Event (vs Navy's Celebration/Army's Medal)
Formal ceremony with family and friends recognizing milestone

Activity 9: Mission End Tracker (vs Navy's Harbor/Army's Rally Point)
Calendar with "days and a wake-up" Marine countdown tradition

Activity 10: Honor Welcome Display (vs Navy's Banner/Army's Command Center)
Formal tri-panel display with Eagle-Globe-Anchor centerpiece

Activity 11: Mission Complete Journal (vs Navy's Book/Army's Album)
Reflective journal with pre-deployment, during, post-deployment sections

MARINE CORPS VALUES INTEGRATION

Honor: Activities emphasize honoring feelings, honoring sacrifice, honoring service

Courage: Brave moments celebrated as acts of courage, not just absence of fear

Commitment: Consistent letter-writing, daily rituals show commitment to connection

"Semper Fidelis" (Always Faithful) Integration:

- Lily learns she's always faithful to her feelings (honest emotion expression)
- Always faithful to her Marine mom (connection across distance)
- Always faithful to her own strength (resilience building)

Eagle, Globe, Anchor Symbolism:

- Eagle: Sky/high standards - Lily aims high in her bravery
- Globe: World/service everywhere - Mom serves worldwide, Lily serves at home
- Anchor: Sea/naval heritage - Stability Lily provides for family
